

Cactus®

Cactus® welcomes Distributor Shriro Group for Hong Kong, Macau, China, Malaysia, Singapore and Taiwan.

Hong Kong, May 31, 2018 - Harvest One Limited, the innovative company that designs and engineers Cactus® wireless lighting equipment for photographers, today announced its new partnership for distribution with Shriro Group.

"We are delighted to have Shriro Group on board," said Youn Ling, Director of Harvest One. "We have always wanted to expand our market and elevate the Cactus brand here in the Asia Pacific region. With Shriro's expertise in the imaging market and in the region, we aim to improve our customers' experience in every aspect possible, expand our network of sales and ensure customer satisfaction. We are convinced that this partnership will be beneficial to both of us and the wider Asia Pacific market."

About Cactus

Cactus is a company that designs and engineers wireless studio lighting equipment - wireless flash triggers, wireless portable flash, laser trigger, and other lighting and camera accessories. Meeting the needs of the photographers continues to be the driving force behind product development. In March 2017, Cactus launched the World's FIRST cross-brand wireless TTL flash transceiver which overthrows the same-system rule in off-camera flash TTL, HSS and power control. It continues to innovate in the wireless lighting equipment market with excellent products for professional photographer and photography enthusiasts worldwide.
